The Cruise Port Of Đà Nẵng, Vietnam

The Modern City of Đà Nang and the Ancient Town of Hoi An Vietnam

Downtown Da Nang is a modern cosmopolitan city, with an impressive skyline, major shopping options, parks, walking malls, and a beautiful beach. The Han River runs through the center of the city, and is crossed by four incredible bridges.

The bridges offer an incredible light display of rainbow colors at night. On both banks of the river are parks and walking trails.

around 30 min. At the port's entrance (approximately 1/3 mile from cruise pier) there is a taxi stop. Smaller cruise ships usually dock at the city's Han River Port on the river's west bank.

All taxis use meters, with the starting price at US$0.65 and after that less than US$1.00 per mile. The drivers also have a fairly good command of English, and there's also a helpline number stated on the passenger door.

Hoi An is referred to as the Ancient Town and is an exceptionally well-preserved example of a South-East Asian trading port dating from the 15th century. Its buildings and streets demonstrate the influences, both Vietnamese and foreign, that produced this unique World Heritage Site.

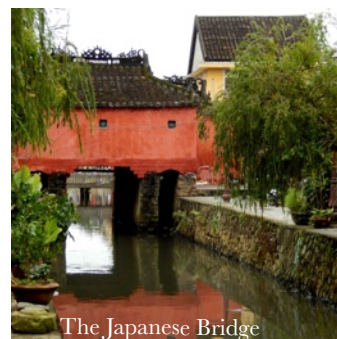

Hoi An, The Ancient Town

A favorite with visitors to Đà Nang, Hoi An is about an 18 mile drive from the city center. Home to several museums the Japanese Covered Bridge, an 18th century pedestrian bridge, and numerous restaurants and shops. The town was founded as a trading port in the 1400's and has benefited from that reputation through a number of regimes.
